MOVIN' ON...

Allen County Public Library
900 Webster Street
PO Box 2270
Fort Wayne, IN 46801-2270

As the wind whistles through the trees, life at Garrett High School moves on. The 800 students, at the turn of the decade, find their years flying by with the speed of rockets that now send men to the moon.

There is an uncertainty about tomorrow. But youth, with their carefree and vibrant nature, can cope with this. They find life an experience of joy, sadness, and love. In response to these feelings, they express themselves through friendships, sports, dates, record hops, the Banquet, and finally commencement. To all GHS students, this is Movin' On.

JoAnn Worman and Matt Hoeffel take time to relax.

Here he comes again,
 head high and smiling
 shakin' down the world,
 playin' it cool.
 He smiles as though he's never been hunted by the crowd
 beaten by the fools.
 Think of those who never knew the answers.
 Think of those who never cared.
 Still there are those who ask why
 who want to know
 who dare to try.
 Every now and then we meet that kind

 Here he comes again,

"MISS GARRETT" CONTEST

Nancy McKee—Miss Garrett

MISS GARRETT AND COURT—(STANDING) Teresa Koehl, Marisa Kennedy, Cathy Costin, Vicki Miller, Barbara Moran, Joanne Hockaday, Lisa Engelhard, Mary Kay Yoder, Sue Kirkpatrick, Barbara Cattell. (SEATED) Nancy McKee—Miss Garrett.

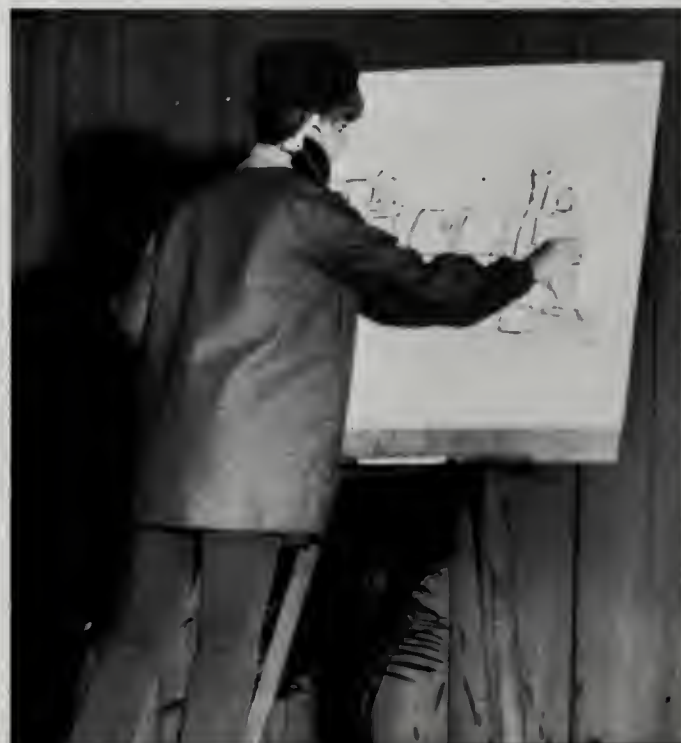

Vicki Miller begins her walk in formal competition.

For her talent, Cathy Costin sketched a locomotive.

Negotiating that step would've been difficult for Barb Cattell if Pat Casey wouldn't have been there to help.

AT THE FAIR . . .

Bands playing, sounds of children screaming, the smell of cotton candy and livestock on the air are some of the activities that a GHS student finds when he is roaming around the fair.

There are all kinds of contests from band to beauty. The 4-H Queen contest was the first held. Patty Housel was chosen queen. Barbara Moran was chosen first runner up in the Miss DeKalb County Fair contest.

Barbara Moran, first runner up and Miss DeKalb County ride in the closing parade viewing their public.

Garrett's candidates ready for competition in Auburn.

12 seniors crammed into the "old bomb" to cheer Barb and Nancy on to victory and let their support be known.

High strutting bands are an important part of the parades, and this year Garrett's band was no exception.

Mike Barcus conveys the feelings of the team.

MARY KAY YODER REIGNS AS QUEEN

Homecoming ceremonies were held during the half time of the Bluffton football game. This year the team chose two girls to represent each class. The Student body then voted for their favorite candidate.

A new innovation was seen at the Lakeland basketball game. This year the team chose a representative from the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes and three Seniors. The seniors were the only ones eligible for the crown.

Jerry Teders and Mike Burns give the junior candidates a hand as they leave the car after the parade.

NEW ADDITIONS TO OLD SCHOOL

Dedication of the new wing was followed by a reception for those in attendance.

New book store employs students themselves to sell all types of supplies from pencils to gymsuits.

Garrett High School found itself with some new additions this year. The new classrooms and gymnasium which were completed last year were dedicated in November.

Downstairs, under room 26, the old shop area was transformed into a bookstore and Student Council's pet project, a student lounge. The lounge, which has recreational facilities including TV, ping pong, a Juke Box, and various games gives students something to do. The bookstore has been needed for a long time.

OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES ROUND STUDENTS

Extra-curricular activities help make a student's time pass faster and give him something to do.

Our convocations included an organist who has performed all over the world and a converted drug addict. The record hops were mostly after games to records. The magazine drive was again big this year and helped to support the student lounge.

Kenneth Goodman, who has performed all over the world, was well received by the student body.

CHRISTMAS TIME IS FRANTIC ONE

Christmas is a busy time at Garrett High School. Caroling, concerts, and plays go on for at least a month around Christmas. Decorated bulletin boards and Christmas trees added their little touch of spirit to the scene also. Snowball fights and men dressed as Santa help make this time one of the best all year round.

IT HAPPENS EVERY DAY AT GHS

Long lunch lines and crowded halls are only a few of the things students must contend with every day. Lockers that jam, being late to class, and tests are some other parts of school that make our days seem to have a great resemblance to each other. Without these little everyday things school would not be the same and that would take half the fun out of it.

"AD ROMAM CUM AMORE" MAKES THE PROM SCENE

Choosing the Roman scene, the junior class gave graduating seniors a night to remember with the swinging sound of 'The Factory', a rock group. A buffet replaced the banquet while guests were entertained by Rody, the Campus Life magician.

This year the square dance part of the all-night party was held in the big gym among the Roman gardens. Following movies and breakfast at the Eagles, students went to the lake to finalize prom weekend.

It looks like any building
When you pass it on the street,
Made of stone and glass and marble,
Made of iron and concrete.
But once inside you can ride
A camel or a train,
Visit Rome, Siam, or Nome,
Feel a hurricane,
Meet a king, learn to sing,
How to bake a pie,
Go to sea, plant a tree,
Find how airplanes fly,
Train a horse, and of course
Have all the dogs you'd like,
See the moon, a sandy dune,
Or catch a whopping pike.
Everything that books can bring
You'll find inside those walls.
A world is there for you to share
When adventure calls.

You cannot tell its magic
By the way the building looks,
But there's wonderment within it,
The wonderment of books.

MATHEMATICIANS LEARN TECHNIQUES

Debbie Mathys explains absolute value to the Algebra I class.

Mr. Capin gives the answers to the difficult problems assigned to the advanced algebra class.

From absolute value in algebra to difficult calculus problems, the math students advance in the techniques of numbers and graphs. Geometry classes challenge their pupils with the Pythagorean theorem and general math students learn to cope with modern math.

Students wait to enter general math class.

GHS SCIENTISTS 'MOVE' WITH THE TIMES

Physics, Chemistry, Earth Science, and Biology are parts of academics that help GHS students move with the times. As the aspiring scientists mix chemicals, study the earth, dissect animals, and experiment with laser beams, they uncover the mysteries of life and discover new ways to approach the changes of our era.

Chemistry students concentrate on their lab.

Randy McIntosh and Tim Wheeler peer closely at the insides of their dissected worm in Biology I lab.

Mr. Miller lectures to his attentive earth science class.

ENGLISH DEPT. CHALLENGES

English courses challenge all students to express their views in composition, show their skill in grammar, and learn about the world through literature. Special projects motivate pupils to take an active part in class and enrich the understanding of our language. This year a speech class was formed, adding to the English program.

Sophomores assemble a project in English class.

Alice Runion gestures freely as she gives a speech to Mr. Ashcraft's newly formed speech class.

Tony Januseski works with Mrs. Schurr as seniors participate in the Cadet Teaching program.

STUDENTS LEARN THROUGH FOR- EIGN LANGUAGES

Latin became closer to its students this year as Mrs. Love journeyed to Rome itself and told of her trip. In Spanish class the exchange students provided the opportunity for a deeper insight of the language.

Debbie Shipman is aided by exchange student Tulio Brescia.

Carol Heupel and Debbie Andrews translate in advanced Latin class.

Miss Haynes questions as the Spanish I class responds.

STUDENTS PROBE PAST AND PRESENT

Whether it is U.S. History, World History, Economics, or Civics, the students seem, to always be interested in their studies. Special projects, reports and field trips keep the rhythm of the Social Studies Department movin' on. This year Earth Day proved to be a very effective project for the students and the community as well.

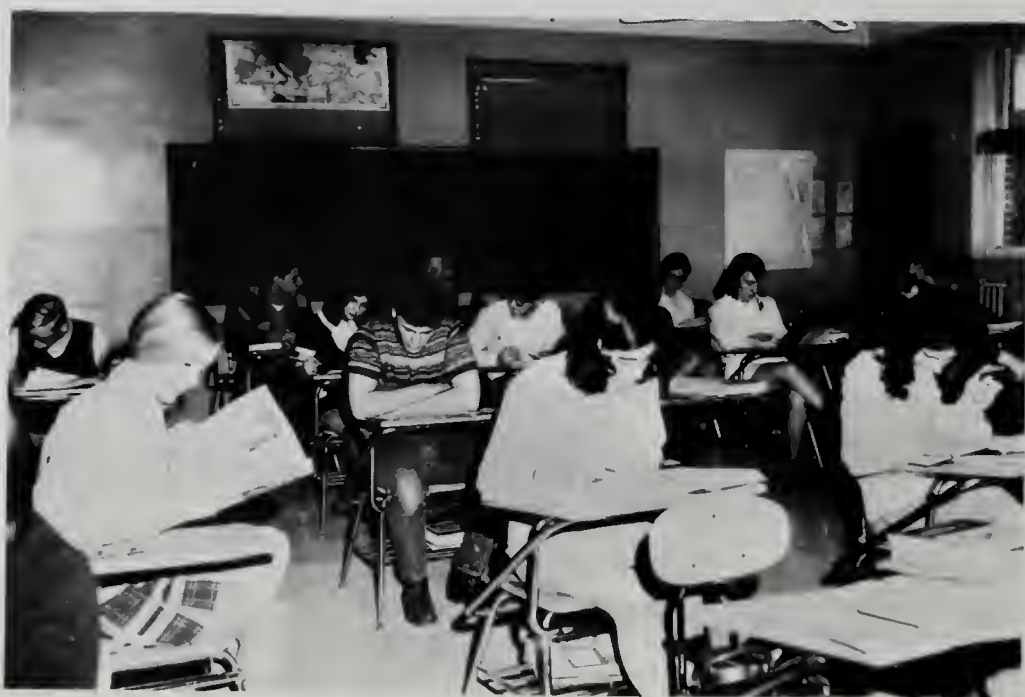

A "pollution deposit" was a project in honor of Earth Day.

The Economics Class is entertained with a filmstrip.

U.S. History Students find that the Student Weekly Newspapers add a little something extra to their daily routine.

BUSINESS WORLD COMES ALIVE

The Business Department is a big help to those students who want to move on to a position in the business world. They are taught with some of the most modern equipment. Typewriters and dictaphones create an "office job" atmosphere for the business students.

General Business Students are eager to find the correct answer.

The Business Lab gives these girls a feeling of being a rel secretary.

Chris Boyd works diligently on her typing assignment.

Mr. Ashcraft takes part in class as a student takes over his job of teaching Business English.

Bob Bishop and Glenn Steigmeyer swish away on canvas.

Mr. Hutton plans projects for the art classes.

ART STUDENTS EXPRESS THEMSELVES

Whether oil painting, sketching, or working on crafts, art students at GHS apply themselves and express their moods or feelings in the form of their creative works. Long hours are spent developing skills as pupils strive to learn the basic principles of art and colors. Several seniors applied for scholarships and were highly recommended by Mr. Hutton because of their talent shown on the canvas. An art exhibit was set up in the library to display the work of these young artists.

Painting students display their creations.

Girls enjoy time to paint in the Art I class.

NEW DIMENSIONS ADDED TO INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Industrial Arts Department has come a long way. The boys and frequently a girl or two find their classes much more interesting. They are able to put to use the principles they learn in books. The new equipment helps keep their interest alive.

Jerry Claxton and Steve Smeltzer enjoy working with the machines in Wood Shop.

Power Mechanics students are able to use the skills they acquire.

These boys find Electronics more interesting when they experiment.

Ken Roebel finds concentrating on his drawing project easy with new Drafting materials.

NEW GYMNASTIC EQUIPMENT HELPS DEVELOP SKILLS

WHATS HAPPENING? This year the physical education classes have changed. The boys and girls are mixed which makes it more interesting. They have been given more equipment and have been offered the opportunity to advance their physical skills.

Gym outfits for this year's girls are dark shorts and white blouses, and of course, white tennies. The boys' outfits are blue trunks with white trim and white T-shirts with maroon trim.

Sue Kirkpatrick displays her talents on the trampoline to the sixth period advanced gym class.

STUDENTS BUILD PRACTICAL LIVES

Guess what? Homemakers of GHS have learned many things this past year such as cooking, sewing, learning how to walk and talk, how to put on make-up, and how to act.

Do students in agriculture learn through experience or in class? Today's students learn both ways. Learning in class helps them gain more knowledge through experience.

Lynn Fritz and Elsie Saxer seek skills in farming.

Agriculture class learns more about the outside world.

Kathy Creager and Alice Runion help Kindergarten students bake cookies.

Jacque Black displays her talents by putting in a hem.

The chorus received excellent ratings at the state contest in Knox, Indiana.

CHORUS EARNS AN 'EXCELLENT' RAT- ING AT CONTEST

This year for the first time the GHS chorus was on TV. They performed three songs which were given on Easter Sunday. Carols were recorded and played downtown during the Christmas season.

During the year the chorus proved to be civic minded by giving concerts on Thanksgiving, at the dedication of the gymnasium, and at Baccalaureate.

JR. HIGH CLASSES AROUSE INTEREST

Loud, silly, and full of energy the seventh and eighth grade students frolic through their nine period day. Each class offers a new and different challenge for these eager pupils. But there are no barriers as the underclassmen attack English, music, shop, math, and science with undying ambition. This year, the seventh graders played a significant part in the observance of Earth Day.

Junior High students have study hall in Room 26.

The groggy fighter on his knees
Sways up at nine, postpones the count;
The jockey, forty-to-one shot, sees
Them all go by, yet whips his mount;
The losing pitcher, arm gone lame,
Still drops that last one in, a strike—
So you and I play a stubborn game,
Disaster prodding us alike.
So you and I, ignoring odds,
Tug caps, clutch ropes, and flail whips,
Make sacrifices to the gods,
Breed children and build battleships,
Though ours is not an athlete's doom,
Nor death like any shower room.

No pictures! No film! Deadlines! The Aeolian staff didn't have any idea what was to be expected of them or how much work a yearbook really was. But, taken all in all, the going was not so bad, and the staff has produced a memorable Aeolian.

FACULTY

Teachers come in many sizes and shapes—
Large, small, young, old, fresh, tired.
Some teachers know how to make you feel
Good; others make you feel bad all over,
Deep down. Some help you not be afraid;
Others keep you scared all the time.
Some teachers make you want to come to
School every day; others make you want
To skip as often as you can.
But some teachers are great.
They put bandages on our hurts—
On our hearts, on our minds, on our spirits.
These teachers cared about us
And let us know it.
They gave us wings.

SCHOOL BOARD: George Wade, Glenn Jay, Marguerite Smith, Eugene Bartels, and Maurice Chisholm.

MR. CHARLES PUFF—SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. Puff has made himself familiar in many of the classrooms, talking to the students, the teachers, or just sitting in on a class in session.

ADMINISTRATION BEYOND COMPARE

MR. ROBERT WAINSCOTT—PRINCIPAL

Under his leadership, a foreign exchange student program has been initiated, a code of dress committee of teachers, parents, and students was established, the S.I.R. program was started for senior honor roll students and extended to Juniors.

PRINCIPAL
Manchester College B.S.
St. Francis College M.Ed.

Paulette Swank, Mila Ballentine.

STUDY FACILITIES BENEFIT STUDENTS

Where does the student go to find peace and quiet? The books, magazines, and materials in the library help many pupils with assignments. Paperbacks are also available. Study halls were kept orderly by the capable study hall teachers who issued passes and helped students with their studies. With typewriters and ditto machines busily clicking, the teachers' aides provided the necessary materials for the teachers.

Working in the library this year were Peg Cleland, Jo Ellen Owens, and Janice McCorkel.

MOVIN' ON...

FACES

A row of faces,
peering with effortless
ease on pages of shining paper.

Some smiling, most indifferent to the void emptiness before their eyes.

A quick glance,
the turning of a page,
only a memory of
"Faces".

Lisa Engelhard

Dave Kobiela

Barbara Cattell

Sixteen honor students, possessing varied interests and talents, have been named from the graduating class of 1970.

In order to achieve this status these students were required to maintain a grade point average of 3.125 out of a possible 4.00 during seven semesters of high school work.

To be classified as an honor student is the result of persistence, organization, and the desire to succeed academically. In this respect these sixteen honor students have made useful contributions to Garrett High School.

Congratulations to these seniors and may their academic studies pave the road to a greater success.
